

Tari Romero,
LCSW

Girls Campus Therapist

Meet Tari Romero, LCSW— West Ridge Academy Girls Campus Therapist.

Tari is a graduate of Argosy University and earned her Masters degree in Marriage and Family Therapy. She is very excited and dedicated to her therapy career and loves helping others find their true selves through the process of healing.

Tari has a solid history working in several different mental health arenas during her career. She enjoys engaging with people and clients through experiential and therapeutic activities, and firmly believes that we gain a new perspective of our situation, trauma, crisis, etc., by physically getting engaged in the process.

She also studies and practices trauma therapy and connects well with people during their most vulnerable moments.

Tari is happily married and has a beautiful “sassy two-year old” daughter. She loves being a mom and laughing with them every day as they explore this life together.

Tari loves to travel! She loves to learn about the variety of cultures around her. She enjoys everything about baking. Tari is an avid lover of the great outdoors and spends as much time as possible outside (in the warm months). She is adventurous and always loves to try new activities and spending time with her family and loved ones.
